

TRASHTAG CHALLENGE

People Picking Up Trash on a Beach

A challenge to pick up trash is popular around the world. The challenge is called the Trashtag Challenge. People go to places that have a lot of trash, such as beaches, roadsides, parks and more. They take pictures of the places with all the trash. Then people pick up the trash and take pictures of the places after. People post the before and after pictures online on social media with a hashtag. The hashtag is #trashtag. You can find before and after pictures by searching for #trashtag on social media. You can join the challenge by picking up trash in your area!
